There is an online process (through Wolverine Access) for students who need to add or drop courses after the regular drop/add deadline. Online requests are automatically routed to instructors and advisers in the Office of Student Life who need to approve the request. You can track the progress of your request in Student Business in Wolverine Access.

It is recommended that you speak to your instructor and/or adviser (Bayrex Martí, Assistant Dean for Student Life, or Vivi Hernandez, Associate Director of Student Services, in the Office of Student Life) about why you are making the late drop/add request before submitting the online form.

Information about how to access and submit the online late drop/add form is available here: https://csprod.dsc.umich.edu/htmldoc/eng/dftie/lsaa/htm/sr_ss_latedropaddform.html

Information about how to track the status of the online late drop/add request is available here: https://csprod.dsc.umich.edu/htmldoc/eng/dftie/lsaa/htm/sr_ss_latedropaddstatus.html

Some late starting Law and U-M non-law classes do not require the "Late Drop/Add" process (until their drop/add deadline passes) because they have extended drop/add deadlines, as described in the “Late Starting Classes” document on the Office of Student Records’ website under "Registration."

Requests to enroll in Fall 2019 Research (independent study) classes -- Law 900 Research or Law 992 Research: Special Projects (after making arrangements with a professor) -- should be submitted directly to the Office of Student Records lawrecords@umich.edu by the last day of classes for the term (Friday, December 6) (i.e., not through Wolverine Access).

If you have any questions about dropping or adding a class, please contact the Office of Student Records lawrecords@umich.edu.
