INFORMATION FOR UNIVERSITY-RELATED STUDENT INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL

1. Independent Nature of Overseas Opportunities. It is your responsibility to investigate and determine, when going abroad, what are the risks associated with this endeavor, and it is your decision whether to undertake such risks. The UM Law School is not able to assess the risks for you. Before you leave on your trip or during your stay overseas, you may determine that for reasons of health and safety, you do not want to go or you want to return early. When traveling abroad, you should frequently assess the health, safety and security situation, and you should feel free to make decisions, such as not going or returning early, that you deem necessary to secure your personal health and safety. UM Law School is not responsible in any way for the planning or administration of your independent travel abroad experience. The potential for granting of academic credit or funding does not confer any control, responsibility or authority for this independent travel abroad experience to the University of Michigan or its Law School.

2. University-Related Student International Travel Release. As a condition to receiving funding or enrolling for study abroad or overseas externship credit, you must first sign the attached University-Related Student International Travel Release and return the signed release to _______________________. This requirement applies whether or not the destination to which you are traveling is under a University of Michigan travel warning.

3. University Travel Warnings or University Travel Restrictions. You may not receive credit toward your Law School degree or receive funding for studies or activities in a University Travel Restriction Destination. If a University Travel Warning is in effect for the destination to which you plan to travel, you must comply with the requirements of the University's International Travel Policy, SPG 601.31. These requirements can be found at: http://global.umich.edu/going-abroad/planning/policy/. Unless the University's International Travel Oversight Committee (ITOC) approves your travel plans and you provide a copy of ITOC's decision concerning your travel to ___________________________ ____________________________, you will not be allowed to participate in the approved University-related travel opportunity.

4. Pre-Departure Orientation. The University has a wealth of information available to you that will assist you in your travel planning that is organized through the University's global portal (http://global.umich.edu/going-abroad/planning/) In addition, the International Center's Travel Abroad Office (http://internationalcenter.umich.edu/swt/travel/) is another excellent source.

You are required to read carefully all the information listed under Travel Planning on the University's Global Michigan page at http://global.umich.edu/going-abroad/planning/. It is very important that you read each of the links: Travel Registry, UM Policy, Requirements for Individual Student Travel, Preparation Checklist, and Health & Safety. These sections contain critical information about the University's travel registry, international travel and health insurance, health and safety for international travel, visas, and links to important information sources, to name just a few. Below is a short list of items. They are not intended as a substitute for your reading the University's Travel Planning web sites.

a. Travel Registry. Before your departure, you are required to register your trip in the University's Travel Registry: http://global.umich.edu/going-abroad/planning/registry/. The Travel Registry helps facilitate communication in the event of emergency situations that may arise for those traveling outside the United States. In addition you are expected to update the information in the Travel Registry throughout your overseas travel experience, as you get new information or information changes.

c. University's Pre-Departure Checklist. Print the University's Pre-Departure Checklist (http://global.umich.edu/files/2012/08/individual-checklist.pdf) early in your travel planning process and review it regularly.

d. Safety Plan. As part of your travel planning you should prepare a safety plan that includes: (1) country specific emergency contact information; (2) country specific health and safety precautions; (3) your health and medical information; (4) insurance information; and (5) other emergency contact information. A sample safety plan is available for review at http://global.umich.edu/files/2012/08/safety-individual.docx. You are required to submit a safety plan to the International Travel Oversight Committee (ITOC) if but only if you are traveling to a destination that is under a University Travel Warning or Travel Restriction.

e. U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program Registration: You should register with the State Department’s Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP), or, if you are a foreign national, your country’s equivalent registry, for the country where your overseas opportunity is located https://step.state.gov. The University’s Pre-departure Checklist shows U.S. citizens how to do this.

f. Travel Abroad Health Insurance. You are required to purchase UM Travel Abroad Health Insurance which provides coverage for a range of conditions that might occur while traveling abroad (http://www.uhs.umich.edu/tai/). When accessing this site, you can find information about provisions and benefits offered, as well as a list of frequently asked questions. You are able to purchase this insurance directly from the company after the required registration of your travel in the University Travel Registry via the following site: http://global.umich.edu/going-abroad/planning/registry/. Even if you already have health insurance, it may not cover you while you are abroad, and you should consult your health insurance company about this. While the UM Travel Abroad Health Insurance may provide some continued coverage when you return home following a condition or injury abroad, this coverage is extremely limited, and, therefore, you should by all means simultaneously continue whatever current health insurance coverage you have.

g. Visa Requirements. Consult with the closest embassy or consulate of the country where your overseas opportunity is located to take the necessary steps required by the government for entry (i.e. if obtaining a visa is necessary, etc.). It is your responsibility to determine and comply with the legal requirements for entry.

h. Copies of Travel Documents. Provide a copy of all travel (passport, visa, credit cards, etc.) and insurance documents to a family member or friend who could fax you copies or provide you with pertinent information should your documents be lost or stolen.
