

HEEJIN KIM

Heejin Kim is a Postdoctoral Fellow at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore. Heejin holds law degrees from Yale Law School (LL.M. & J.S.D.) and Sookmyung Women's University (LL.B. & LL.M.), Seoul, Korea. She received Korean Government Scholarship for Overseas Doctoral Studies administered by the National Institute for International Education, Korea, as well as Lillian Goldman Perpetual Scholarship and Howard M. Holtzmann Fellowship awarded by Yale Law School. Before joining NUS Faculty of Law in August 2015, Heejin worked for various institutions including the Office of the Presidency at the International Criminal Court (ICC) in The Hague, Constitutional Court of Korea, and the National Human Rights Commission of Korea. She was also involved with the Yale Law School's Khmer Rouge Trial Project, co-authoring bench briefs for the Chamber at the Extraordinary Chambers in the Chambers of Cambodia (ECCC).