

Peter Szigeti

Peter Szigeti is a Max Weber Postdoctoral Fellow at the European University Institute in Florence, Italy. He has received his SJD from Harvard Law School in 2015 (working under the direction of David Kennedy), and an LL.M., also from Harvard Law School, in 2008. His dissertation deals with the role of spatialized language in liberal political theory and international law; his research more broadly focuses on jurisdiction and territoriality in international law, and property and environmental protection.

Peter also holds a Master's in international law and international organizations from Université Paris I (Pantheon-Sorbonne), and a Bachelor's in law from ELTE University, Budapest, Hungary. He is an attorney-at-law admitted to the Bar of the State of New York, and has worked, among other institutions, for the UN FAO Fisheries and Aquaculture Division and Shearman & Sterling's international arbitration department.
