If you are unruly, the hearing officers may recess the hearing. If you refuse to attend the hearing, it will be held in your absence. An inmate’s right to attend a hearing may be suspended if there is a safety concern for staff and other inmates.

The misconduct report listing the charges will be read to you. You may admit or deny these charges. Inmates have no right to cross-examine witnesses or confront accusers.

Inmates have no right to remain silent at a administrative/disciplinary board hearing. If an inmate fails to answer questions or refuses to speak in his/her own behalf, the hearing officer(s) can make an adverse inference for purposes of deciding guilt or innocence. The inmate’s silence may still result in an adverse inference in the administrative/disciplinary hearing.
In the event you are incapable of representing yourself in such a hearing, you shall be advised of your right to be assisted by another person. This person may help and assist you as long as it does not constitute a breach in safety or security.

Disciplinary boards will determine guilt or innocence based on the evidence presented. Only if a guilty verdict is reached, will sanctions be imposed.

Example: An inmate bails out prior to or just after a disciplinary board hearing and returns to jail a month later. The hearing can still be held and or sanctions can still be imposed.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

The Sheriff’s Office has established a formal procedure to address inmate complaints. An inmate grievance must concern a jail rule, complaint of specific oppression or misconduct by an officer/employee in administering jail rules. Personal disputes between you and an employee are not grounds for a grievance. Grievances are not an avenue to vent. Group grievances or grievances submitted on behalf of another inmate will not be accepted.

The following are not grievable issues:

- Federal, State or Local Statutes.
- Court decisions, or decisions of an inmate’s attorney.
- Sanctions, as a result of disciplinary action. Refer to disciplinary “Appeals” for concerns about the disciplinary process.

An inmate has up to seven (7) days to file a written grievance once they become aware of a grievable issue which cannot be resolved through oral communication. Late filings will be rejected unless approved by a supervisor.

You must first attempt to resolve a grievance informally with an employee or the employee concerned. If your grievance cannot be resolved informally, you may submit a written grievance in the following manner:

Obtain an “Inmate Grievance Form” from your pod officer.

Submit completed form to your pod officer, who will receive it and may place comments then forward to the appropriate sergeant.

A written response to your grievance will be received from the appropriate sergeant within five (5) business days.

After receiving the response, if you’re not satisfied, you may continue your grievance using the original form in the same manner to the Watch Commander, and last with the Chief Jail Administrator.

You have only 48 hours from receiving your answer to file your grievance to the next level. Each administrative level has ten (10) business days to respond. All steps must be followed in order to consider the administrative remedies “Exhausted.”

All games will be stored neatly on shelves in the dayroom when not in use.

GOOD TIME AND FINES
If you are a sentenced inmate you will earn good time credit, provided you have demonstrated good behavior throughout your stay in this facility. Qualified inmates may earn fifteen percent (15%) good time. This policy allows for sentence reduction for all sentenced inmates unless otherwise determined by the court. Good time earned may be taken away from you as a result of disciplinary action against you.

Qualified inmate trusty workers will be credited an additional 15%. While participating in a work program, you can earn 15% good time plus 15% trusty time for a total maximum of 30%.

Court imposed fines that require payment before you can be released will be reduced at the rate of $50.00 a day, inmate workers will have their fines reduced at the rate of $75.00 a day. These credits cannot be applied to other fees.

If applicable, good time is calculated in your current outdate. Unresolved questions or concerns regarding your outdate calculation are to be placed on an "Inmate Request Form" and forwarded to Jail Records. You will usually receive a written response within three (3) working days.

HAIR CARE
Hair care/cuts are provided as available from inmate labor. You may be charged from your inmate account for services provided. Inmates interested in getting on a list for hair care service can give your name to your pod officer.

A licensed barber may be made available at your own expense and subject to the approval of the jail administration.

LAW LIBRARY
The Supreme Court has now firmly rejected the notion that inmates must be provided at government expense with the means to discover grievances and litigate effectively. Litigating effectively has nothing to do with the concept of access to the courts. Federal case law indicates you must have "Meaningful access to the Courts." Your attorney provides you with meaningful access to the courts.

If your attorney requires your help to represent you, your attorney can petition the court to request that the Clark County Jail authorize additional use of the law library.

If you are representing yourself (Pro Se) in a criminal matter, you may submit an "Inmate Request Form" to the night duty sergeant, requesting time in the law library. You may be required to provide a copy of the court order appointing you Pro Se. There is no talking/communicating while in the law library.

No personal property or commissary allowed in the law library.
The Clark County Jail is not required to supply typewriters or computers. Pencil, paper and Legal mail may be brought to the law library. Law books are to remain in the library at all times.

In the future, legal assistance or computer software may be substituted for a law library.

To request legal forms from the Clark County Law Library or copies of legal papers:

  - Write “No Funds” on the form.
  - The cost will be charged to your inmate account and will be deducted from future money received in your inmate account.

GENERAL INFORMATION

CORRESPONDING WITH JUDGES
Send all correspondence to judges or courts through the mail. "Inmate Request forms" will not be hand delivered to the judges. No inmate will be denied the opportunity to send out legal mail due to an inability to pay.

FOOD AND NUTRITIONAL SERVICES
Security, food safety and nutritional content of meals are important in the Food Services Department. The food service operation is inspected and graded often each year for cleanliness and the proper handling of food, and usually receives 100%, which is the highest grade given, and higher than many restaurants.

For security concerns, all meals can be eaten with the plastic spoon or your fingers and are served on plastic trays. Food is checked from kitchen delivery until delivered to the housing units to insure safe food is served.

For food safety, to keep it clean and safe to eat, only good quality food is bought and prepared. You will receive three meals daily and at least one will contain hot food. The food service operation workers are in good health, wash their hands often and wear plastic gloves and hairnets.

Registered Dieticians review at the nutritional content of the meals to insure all nutrients are provided. The American Heart Association recommendations are generally followed meaning the food may have less flavor due to less fat, cholesterol, salt and sugar.

Special diets may be approved. Under no circumstances will changes in meals be made because of food likes or dislikes. If you have a special medical need diet, submit an "Inmate Request Form" to the medical unit for determination and approval. If you have a special religious need diet, submit an "Inmate Request Form" to Food Services for approval. Only religions recognized by the Washington State Department of Corrections may be approved.
