

Leah Angela Robis

Leah Angela Robis is PhD candidate at the University of Hong Kong Faculty of Law, under the supervision of Prof. Michael Davis and Ms. Kelley Loper. Her dissertation examines the effect of judicialization of politics on intergovernmental relations in emerging democracies, and pay particular attention on why and how impeachment proceedings are undertaken. Angela has also researched and published articles on the rights to free expression, privacy and self-determination.

Angela holds a BS in Management and JD degrees from the Ateneo de Manila University in the Philippines and an LLM in Human Rights from the University of Hong Kong. Prior to commencing her graduate studies, Angela was a law clerk for the Supreme Court of the Philippines and private practitioner. She was a participant at the 4th China ASEAN Leadership Forum at Guangxi University for Nationalities in Nanning, China and was a Wong Family Human Rights Scholar.