

Hadar Dancig-Rosenberg is an Assistant Professor at the Bar-Ilan University Faculty of Law. Her fields of interest are Criminal Law and Procedure, Feminist Legal Theory, Restorative Justice and Therapeutic Jurisprudence. She earned her LL.B from Bar-Ilan University (Summa Cum Laude), her LL.M. from Hebrew University of Jerusalem (Summa Cum Laude) and her Ph.D from Bar-Ilan University (with highest distinction). Before joining Bar-Ilan she was the Director of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem Legal Clinic for Violence against Women. She has published articles in leading American and Israeli law journals and received numerous merit scholarships for academic excellence and community involvement. Among her recent publications in English: Criminal Law Multitasking, LEWIS & CLARK L. REV. (forthcoming, 2015) (with Tali Gal); Restorative Criminal Justice, 34 CARDOZO L. REV. 2313 (2013) (with Tali Gal); Pain, Love and Voice: The Place of Domestic Violence Victims in Sentencing, 18 MICH. J. GEN. & L. 423 (2012) (with Dana Pugach).