

The National Registry of EXONERATIONS

Below is a list of names of defendants who were wrongly convicted based on misconduct by Chicago police detective Reynaldo Guevara and his partner, Ernest Halvorsen, and in some cases other additional detectives. The misconduct includes coercing false confessions through violence and coercing false identifications from witnesses. The convictions of these men and women were vacated. Juan Johnson was acquitted at retrial. The cases of all the others were dismissed by the Cook County State's Attorney's office.
