INMATE GRIEVANCE PROGRAM
ANNUAL REPORT

I. INTRODUCTION

The Inmate Grievance Program (IGP) functions under Departmental Directive #4040 entitled "Inmate Grievance Program" and Departmental Directive #4041 entitled "Inmate Grievance Program Modification Plan" and is established by the statutory mandates of Section 139 NYS Correction Law and N.Y.C.R.R., Title 7, Part 701.

The Inmate Grievance Program provides each inmate an orderly, fair, simple and expeditious method of resolving grievances pursuant to Section 139, NYS Correction Law. This grievance program includes procedures for inmates to resolve allegations of discriminatory treatment in accordance with the State Commission of Correction regulation 9 NYCRR Part 7695. Grievances filed prior to July 7, 1990 were reviewed by the NYS Commission of Correction and responded to by the Commissioner. Correction Law 139 was amended by Chapter 373 of the Laws of 1990 deleting the requirement that the Commission of Correction review individual grievances, yet required the Commission of Correction to review and assess the grievance process on an annual basis. The elimination of the advisory step ensures that the grievance process is more expeditious while at the same time allows the Commission of Correction to provide oversight.

On September 28, 1992, the U. S. Department of Justice, Office of the Associate Attorney General, pursuant to the authority conferred by Title 42, United States Code, Section 1997e and Part 40 of Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations granted full certification that the NYS Department of Correctional Services Inmate Grievance Program is in substantial compliance with the standards set forth in Part 40 of Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations. Based on this certification, the court may order that prior to litigating claims under 42 U.S.C. Section 1983, New York State inmates shall exhaust any remedies they have with respect to the claim through the Inmate Grievance Program. For the purpose of this order, the disposition of the Central Office Review Committee (CORC) constitutes sufficient proof of exhaustion. In 1996, the federal government passed the Prisoner's Litigation Reform Act (PLRA) which enacted the same requirement for all inmates.

On May 29, 2001, the United States Supreme Court decision in Booth v. Churner required that prisoners exhaust their administrative remedies before bringing damage lawsuits in federal court even if the administrative remedy does not provide damages. Subsequently, on February 26, 2002, the United States Supreme Court decision in Porter v. Nussle held that the exhaustion requirement applies to all inmate suits about prison life, whether they involve general circumstances or particular episodes and whether they allege excessive force or some other wrong. These decisions, along with the PLRA have had an impact on the number of grievances being appealed to CORC. The impact is addressed in Part IV of this report.

After an extensive review, the revision of Directive #4040 was issued on July 12, 2006. This revision included changes such as increases in the time frames at all levels, including the filing of the grievance by the inmate. In addition, the processing of grievances after transfer was revised to allow the inmate to determine if he/she wished to appeal the decision. Also, a new section of the directive was established to describe procedures already in place for the processing of Strip Search/Strip Frisk grievances. The purpose of these revisions was to ensure that the IGP remains an orderly, fair, simple and expeditious method of resolving grievances and, at the same time, remains in compliance with the standards set forth in Part 40 of Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations and the Federal Certification.

*18.6% of all grievances were resolved
16.0% were still pending*

II. STATISTICAL ANALYSIS OF IGP WORKLOAD

The number of grievances filed in 2007 was 46,529, an increase from the 44,484 filed in 2006. This is an increase of 2,045 grievances as compared to the decrease of 861 grievances realized last year. Over the last eight years there have been fluctuations in the numbers of grievances filed, from a high of 46,529 this year, to a low of 41,281 in 2000. The non-calendared inmate contacts decreased steadily from 37,999 in 1999 to 25,625 in 2005. In 2007, however, non-calendared contacts again increased 1,221 to 30,757. The trend by inmates to file a grievance so that the administrative remedies can be exhausted has continued. Thus, the inmates who do file grievances tend to exhaust the administrative remedy with an appeal to CORC.

This 2007 total of 46,529 represents an increase of 4.4%, while the inmate population increased by .03% from the 63,316 average in 2006 to an average of 63,507 in 2007 (refer to graphs #1 and #2). In 2007, there were 732.7 grievance submissions per one thousand inmates, which is 4.1% greater than the 702.5 grievance submissions per one thousand inmates in 2006.

During 2007, IGP field staff recorded approximately 30,757 non-calendared inmate contacts which clarified issues and/or enabled inmates to resolve problems without the submission of calendared grievances. Non-calendared contacts in 2007 reflect an increase of 1,221 from the 29,536 non-calendared contacts recorded in 2006.

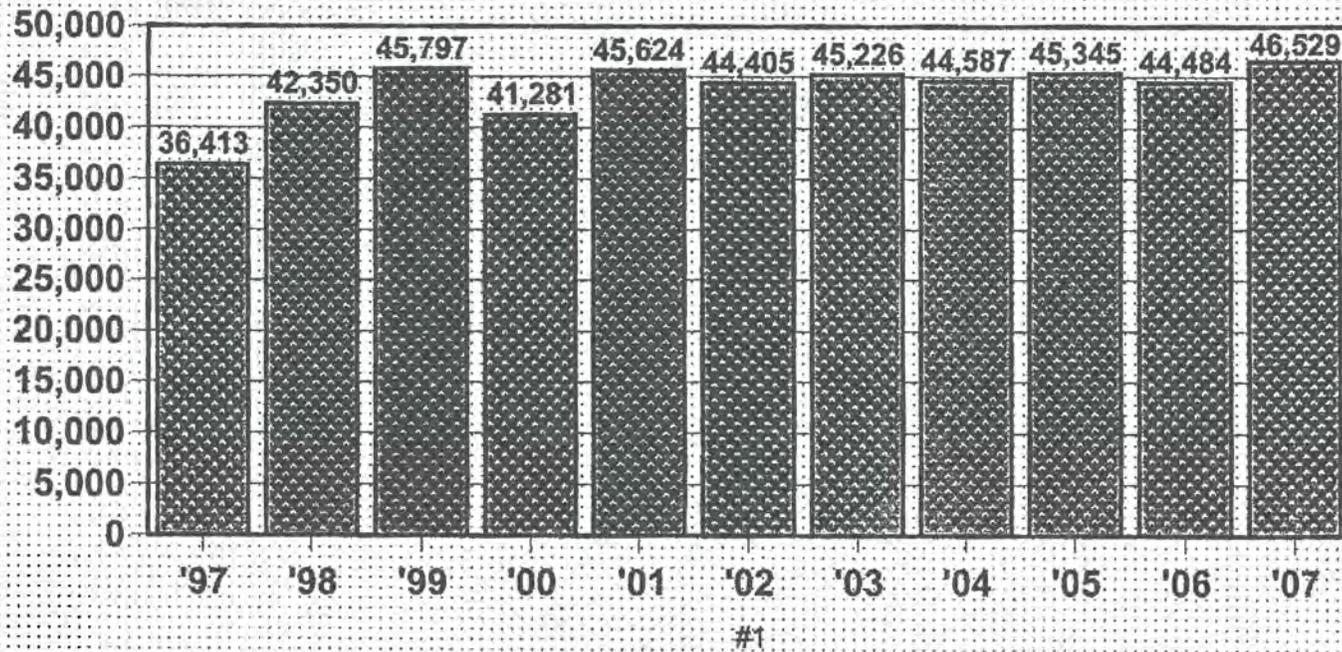

In 2007, there were 5,220 grievances (11.22% of the total filed) informally resolved by the Inmate Grievance Resolution Committee (IGRC). The number of informal resolutions realized by the IGRC in 2007 is greater than the 4,796 grievances (10.78% of the total filed) in 2006. This is a increase of 424 informal resolutions, or an 8.1% increase (refer to graphs #3 and #4).

There were 32,822 Inmate Grievance Resolution Committee (IGRC) hearings (70.54% of the total filed) held statewide in 2007, an increase from the 31,409 hearings (70.61% of the total filed) in 2006. This reflects an increase of 1,413 IGRC hearings. This increase is consistent with the increase in total grievances filed statewide (refer to graphs #5 and #6).

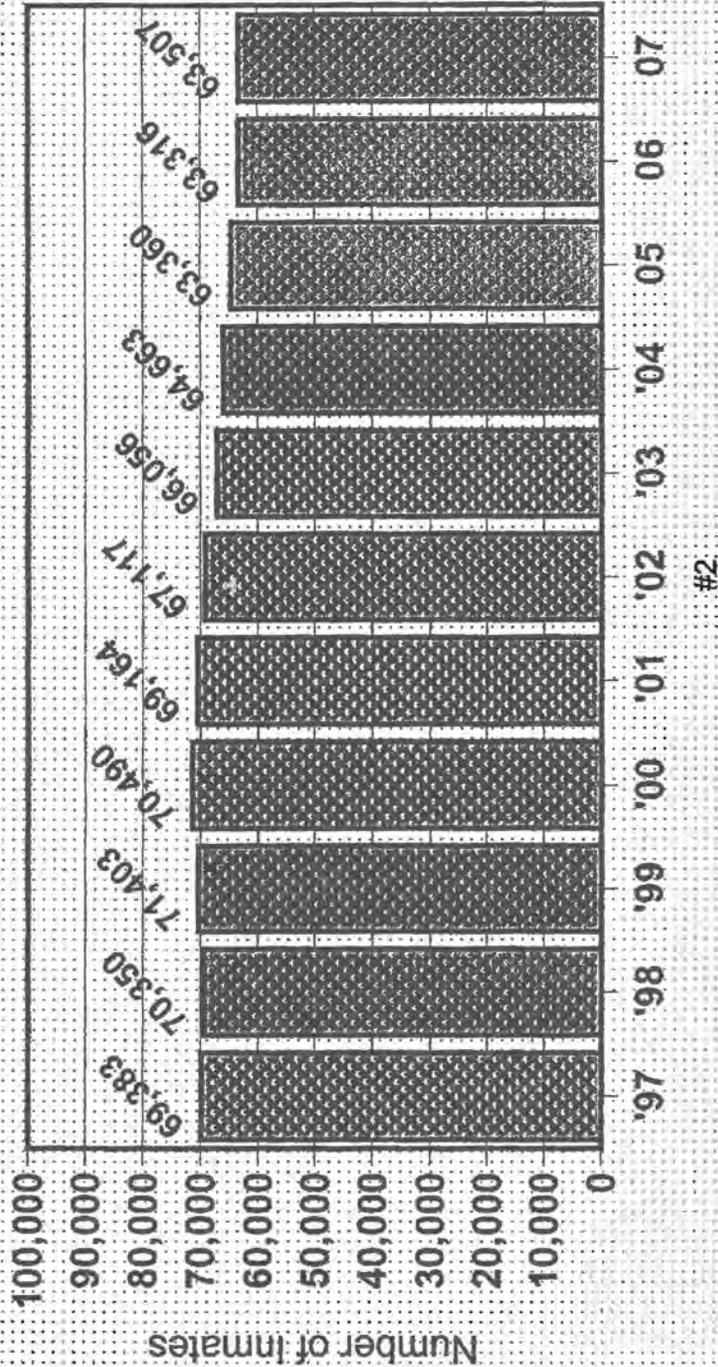

In 2007, there were 2,334 grievances dismissed and closed by the IGRC in accordance with Directive #4040, 701.5(b)(4). This represents 5.0% of all grievances filed. For comparison, in 2006 a total of 2,646 grievances, or 5.9% of all grievances filed, were dismissed and closed by the IGRC.

A total of 27,428 grievances were processed at the Superintendent's level in 2007. This reflects an increase of 2,239 grievances, or a 0.8% increase, from the 25,189 grievances addressed by the Superintendent in 2006. The 2007 figures indicate 58.95% of all grievances filed were processed at the Superintendent's level (refer to graphs #7 and #8).

The total number of grievances resolved/closed at the facility level was 31,023 or 66.67% of all grievances filed. This reflects an increase of 1,070 grievances from the 29,953 grievances closed at the facility level in 2006. For clarification, the number of grievances closed at the facility level has been computed by subtracting the number of grievances heard at CORC from the total number of grievances filed (refer to graphs #9 and #10).

As of February 1, 1994, any grievances related to allegations of violations of Directive #4910, Control of & Search for Contraband, during a strip search/strip frisk were reported on the Code Classification Sheet in Codes 25.1 for Strip Search and 25.2 for Strip Frisk. The strip search and strip frisk grievances were carried on the clerk's log and supplemental sheets in the same manner as all other grievances. In 2007, the number of grievances under Code 25.1 (Strip Search) and 25.2 (Strip Frisk) totaled 41. This compares to 54 in 2006, 47 in 2005, 58 in 2004, 49 in 2003, 65 in 2002, 82 in 2001, 72 in 2000, 74 in 1999, 74 in 1998, 78 in 1997, 82 in 1996, and 86 in 1995.

Beginning in September 1999, grievances related to Native American issues were to be monitored for two years. These grievances have "Native American" in the title and were reported monthly. Through 2000, there were 54 grievances regarding Native American issues reported. In 2001, there were 50 grievances in this category. Through July 2002, an additional 21 Native American grievances were reported. Although, still tracked in the same manner with the use of the title, subsequent reports have not been requested since July 2002.

A category regarding the Department's Smoke Free Policy was added to the Code Classification Sheet in 1999 as Code 23.1. There were 51 grievances filed in this category in 2007, as compared to 37 in 2006, 41 in 2005, 84 in 2004, 53 in 2003, 64 in 2002, 124 in 2001, and 158 in 2000.

Effective July 2000, any grievances related to allegations of pat frisks of female inmates were reported on the Code Classification Sheet under Code 25.3, Pat Frisk (Female Inmates). In the last six months of 2000, there were 3 grievances filed in this category. A total of 7 was reported in 2001, 5 in 2002, 11 in 2003, 7 in 2004, 9 in 2005, and 3 in 2006. In 2007, there were 9 grievances reported.

In 2004, any grievances related to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) were filed in a new category as Code 22.1. There were 206 grievances filed in this category that year. This total decreased to 170 in 2005 and 152 in 2006. In 2007, there were 196 grievances filed under this code, an increase of 44 from 2006.

III. IGP STAFF

Central Office staff made approximately 35 facility visits during 2007. Inmate Grievance Central Office staff conducted orientation/training sessions for 1,013 Training Academy Correctional Officer recruits, and 127 Sergeants in the Training Academy Sergeant's School. In addition to regularly scheduled weekly CORC meetings, IGP Central Office staff attended 40 meetings, conferences, ceremonies, training/meetings and various events.

During 2007, 11 facility staff transitions occurred due to reassignment, promotion and resignations. There were 7 Central Office staff transitions due to lateral transfer or promotion. All Inmate Grievance Programs that had staff transitions during 2007 received assistance from the regional program coordinators or other facility staff in order to help maintain the programs until replacement of staff was accomplished.

In 2007, staff transitions occurred at the following facilities:

Attica C.F. - The IGP Supervisor accepted a Correction Counselor position in January 2007 and a replacement IGP Supervisor was hired in April 2007.

Bayview C.F. - The IGP Supervisor returned to her position as a Correction Officer, and a new IGP Supervisor was hired in December 2007. This item was consolidated to include the IGP at Queensboro C.F.

Coxsackie C.F. - The IGP Supervisor took a lateral transfer to the Central Office IGP in December 2007. The Correction Counselor agreed to supervise the program until a replacement is named.

Five Points C.F. - The IGP Supervisor item was filled on three separate occasions, with the Recreation Program Leader II supervising the program until the current replacement was hired in February 2007.

Green Haven C.F. - The IGP Supervisor left State service in March 2007 and the Correction Counselor supervised the program until a new IGP Supervisor was hired in May 2007.

Great Meadow C. F. - The IGP Supervisor took a lateral transfer to Wallkill C.F. in September 2007, and a Clerk 2 supervised the program until a replacement IGP Supervisor was hired in December 2007.

Lyon Mountain C.F. - A Sergeant took over supervision of the IGP in October 2007, relieving the Correction Counselor.

Mohawk C.F. - The IGP Supervisor assumed the duties as a Commissary Clerk 2 in May 2007 after a replacement IGP Supervisor was hired.

Mid-Orange C.F. - The IGP Supervisor retired in March 2007, at which time a new IGP Supervisor was hired.

Shawangunk C.F. - The IGP Supervisor took a lateral transfer to Wallkill C.F. in June 2007, when a replacement was hired.

Southport C.F. - The IGP Supervisor took a lateral transfer to Oneida C.F. In January 2007, but continued to supervise the program until a replacement was hired in February 2007. A second IGP Supervisor was hired in March 2007.

In 2007, the following staff transitions occurred in Central Office as follows:

April - An IGP Supervisor accepted a Senior Personnel Administrator position in Central Office. The IGP Director retired and the Assistant Director supervised the program.

May - A Deputy Superintendent for Program Services retreated to his IGP Coordinator hold item, which caused the seated IGP Coordinator to retreat to his IGP Supervisor hold item in Central Office.

June - The IGP Assistant Director was appointed as the Director IGP. An IGP Coordinator was hired as Assistant Director IGP. The IGP Supervisor who was bumped in May was hired as an IGP Coordinator.

July - A new IGP Supervisor was hired.

October - The IGP Supervisor who was hired in July 2007 accepted a promotion with an outside agency. A KBS I accepted a lateral transfer to Personnel in Central Office.

November - The Secretary I accepted a lateral transfer to Special Operations in Central Office. The KBS I item was left vacant, and attempts to permanently fill a Clerk II item were unsuccessful.

December - A Secretary I was hired. An IGP Supervisor from a facility was hired.

During 2007, Central Office staff responded to 2,359 letters from inmates, as well as correspondence from inmates' family and friends, compared to 2,779 in 2006. Central Office staff researched and copied grievance case materials for 40 Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) requests from various persons and agencies. Relevant to inmate litigation, Central Office staff researched and gathered grievance documents for 406 inquiries from the Attorney General's staff, an increase from the 386 in 2006.

IV. Central Office Review Committee (CORC)

The CORC is the final appellate level of the Inmate Grievance Program. The CORC consists of the Deputy Commissioner and Counsel, Deputy Commissioner for Correctional Facilities, Deputy Commissioner for Program Services, Deputy Commissioner for Administrative Services, and the Deputy Commissioner and Chief Medical Officer, or their designees expressly authorized to act for them. A representative of the Office of Diversity Management will attend CORC hearings and have input on grievances alleging discrimination, but will not vote. The CORC functions on behalf of the Commissioner and under his authority. The CORC decisions have the effect of directives.

The PLRA of 1995, amended 42 U.S.C. Section 1997e(a), requires that inmates must exhaust available administrative remedies before litigating over prison conditions. This has been a major factor in the increase in grievance appeals. In addition, there have been two United States Supreme Court decisions that have been a catalyst in this increase. On May 29, 2001, the court decided in Booth v. Churner that even if the administrative remedy does not provide monetary damages, it is still an available remedy. Subsequently, on February 26, 2002, the court, in Porter v. Nussle decided that exhaustion is required in every situation, regardless of the nature of the inmate's underlying claim.

Grievance appeals to CORC increased from the 14,531 in 2006 to 15,506 in 2007. This reflects an increase of 975 grievance appeals. The CORC addressed 9,548 grievance appeals in 1999, 10,527 in 2000, 11,754 in 2001, 12,395 in 2002, 14,432 in 2003, 15,374 in 2004, and 15,122 in 2005. Since 1999, the CORC has realized an annual increase of 5,938 grievance appeals, a 62.2% increase.

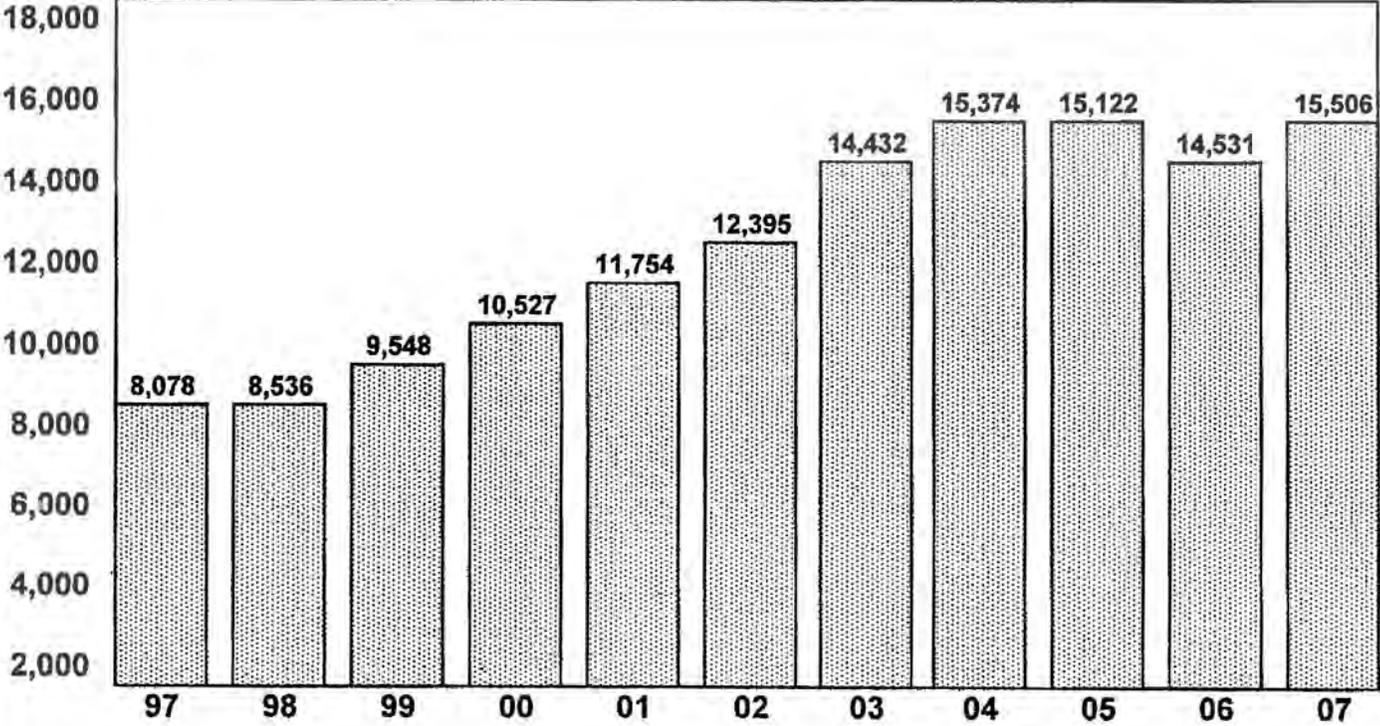

The number of the CORC responses to grievance appeals is affected by 'carry-overs' at the beginning (grievances filed in 2005 but received at the CORC in 2006) and the end (grievances filed in 2006 but answered by the CORC in 2007) of each year. The 15,506 total is the actual number of grievances answered by the CORC in 2007 (refer to graph #11).

Of the 15,506 grievances decided by the CORC in 2007, 5,478 or 35%, were determined to be meritorious or have merit in part. In 2006, 5,231 or 36% were found to be meritorious or have merit in part. The number of meritorious grievances in 2007 represents an increase of 247 grievances from 2006.

The CORC dispositions were transmitted back to the grievants in an average of 20.4 calendar days. This reflects an increase from the 19 calendar day average in 2006.

The CORC dispositions were transmitted back to the grievants in an average of 60.9 calendar days from the date filed at the facility. This is an increase of 2.6 calendar days from the calendar day average of 58.3 in 2006, but well within the 90 calendar day limit mandated by Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations and the Federal Certification.

V. GRIEVANCE TRENDS AND ANALYSIS

The 46,529 grievances filed in 2007 reflect an increase of 2,045 grievance submissions from the 44,484 grievances filed in 2006. Historically, Code 24, Special Housing Units, had been one of the most grieved areas. From 1993 to 1998, it was not ranked among the five highest categories. Since 2001, the five most grieved categories in order of rank have been Staff Conduct, Medical, Housing-Internal Block Affairs, Package Room and Special Housing Units. The grievances filed from the S-Blocks, Southport C.F. and Upstate C.F. had an impact on each of these categories and are the primary reason the Special Housing Units code remains in the top 5 categories.

However, in 2003, Code 49, Staff Conduct, and Code 22, Medical, reversed positions with Code 22, Medical, becoming the lead category. The trends and analysis in each category continue to be consistent with prior years except for the increase in the number of medical grievances, as explained below.

1. CODE 22, MEDICAL

In 2007, the number of Medical grievances filed was 8,655 compared to the 8,193 filed in 2006, an increase of 462 or 5.6%. Medical grievances accounted for 18.6% of all grievances filed, compared to the 18.4% filed in 2006, an increase of .2%

The increase in grievances can be attributed to the inmates who regularly file numerous medical complaints for real or perceived medical problems, and do so at any facility in which they are housed. Thus, many of the issues presented remain constant in this category. It is believed that some medical grievances are filed in order to create a record of the grievant's request for medical attention or in an attempt to enhance medical treatment. There are grievances filed where the requested action is cited as a health concern, even though the request may be non-medical in nature. There has been a mild impact on this category by HIPAA, as evidenced by the increase in Code 22.1 grievances from 151 in 2006 to 196 in 2007.

In some cases, prolific grievants are seriously ill and the number of grievances they file often demonstrate anxiety. Many complain of chronic illnesses such as back pain, arthritis, etc. The anxiety results in grievances because of the time frame involved in realizing an outside consult or appointment. This analysis is validated by the repetition in the composition of the complaints. Another factor is the perception on the part of inmates that recommendations made by outside consultants must be implemented without question, when in reality the Facility Health Services Directors evaluate the recommendation and determine the treatment plan for inmates under their care.

Further, an inmate's expectation of specific treatment plans and desired medical services often does not fall within the realm of possibility, nor are they medically indicated by facility doctors. Requests for specialty consultants such as dermatologists, podiatrists, ophthalmologists, allergists, neurologists and various others are common. Requests for medical procedures which are not in accordance with the medical provider's policy or the Department's Health Services Manual, and are not ordered by the Facility Health Services Director, account for some of the medical complaints.

In some grievances, a medical condition is cited as the reason for requesting items that are issued on medical order only. These requests are for items such as bed boards, orthopedic shoes, eyeglasses, nutritional supplements, Visine, skin creams, pain medications, medicated shampoos and vitamins. Other examples of special medical requests are single cells, lower bunks, additional showers, special diets, medical appliances and boxer shorts.

In some instances, the medical condition cited by the inmate does not exist according to that inmate's medical record, nor is it a condition already being addressed by the facility health staff. Access to outside health providers is also a factor in the number of medical grievances. The combination of perceived illness and actual illness within the inmate population is expected to continue to account for a portion of the number of medical complaints.

The S-Block, Upstate C.F. and Southport C.F. inmates do not come out of their cells except for visits, disciplinary hearings and if the facility doctor determines it is necessary for a medical examination. These inmates feel they should come out for all medical contacts due to privacy concerns.

An increase in the number of wheelchair inmates brought Americans with Disability Act (ADA) issues such as supplies, higher bed, catheters, outside trips, replacement wheelchairs and aides.

The description of grievances in the medical category is intended to demonstrate the variety of complaints received and is not a complete list of medical grievances.

2. CODE 49, STAFF CONDUCT

In 2007, the number of Staff Conduct grievances filed was 7,456 compared to the 7,142 filed in 2006, an increase of 314 grievances or 4.4%. The staff conduct grievances accounted for 16.0% of all grievances filed compared to the 16.1% filed in 2006, a decrease of .1%.

A significant number of staff conduct grievances continues to be attributed to inmate interaction with staff resulting in misbehavior reports. The perception among staff is that some of the harassment complaints resulting from interaction between employees and inmates are filed by the inmates in an attempt to discredit misbehavior reports written by staff and to recover the $5.00 surcharge imposed. A January 1992 revision of Title 7, NYCRR authorizes the surcharge.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, has remained in the five most grieved categories due to the wide range of issues that could be perceived and presented by inmates as inappropriate staff conduct or harassment. A review of Code 49 grievance titles substantiates that "Staff Conduct" numbers are inflated by inmate perception, any difference of opinion with staff and an inmate's unfamiliarity with facility policies or statewide rules.

For example, direct orders are commonly seen as a form of harassment as noted in the description of events in grievances submitted in this code. An inmate's failure to follow procedures may result in the loss of an opportunity to participate in an activity or to exercise an option. An example of this is when an inmate neglects to respond to announcements concerning the commencement of certain activities or the preparation of a list by staff of inmates who wish to participate in an upcoming activity. This results in the inmate's inability to participate and, consequently, the filing of grievances due to the perception of unfair treatment or that staff could have made an exception. The logistics involved in coordinating the activities and movement of large groups of people have not traditionally been readily appreciated by an inmate who files this type of complaint, since the result of such consideration would not support strict adherence to rules governing callouts, attendance and movement.

The examples of grievances in the staff conduct category are intended to demonstrate the variety of complaints received and are not a complete list of staff conduct grievances.

3. CODE 23, HOUSING-INTERNAL BLOCK AFFAIRS

In 2007, the number of Housing-Internal Block Affairs grievances filed was 3,104 compared to 2,913 filed in 2006, an increase of 191 grievances or 6.6%. The grievances in this code accounted for 6.7% of all grievances filed, compared to the 6.5% filed in 2006, an increase of .2%.

Grievances in this code concern physical housing conditions/issues such as double celling, double bunking, cube space, air circulation/fans, furniture, hot water, heat, window screens and storage space.

Service related grievances include cell cleaning supplies, laundering of clothes and linen, winter blankets, list taking procedures, callout procedures, haircuts, in-cell feed up, maintenance of housing areas and repair of housing areas. Other grievances pertain to supplies, enforcement of cell standards, desired/undesired cell moves, honor block denials, denied items or service, cleanliness, pest control measures, removal from double bunk beds, staff performance of duties, distribution of personal mail, mailboxes, razor issue policy, bulletin boards, posting of memos, announcements over public address system, television cable and radio/television volume.

The noted issues in this category are intended to demonstrate the variety of complaints filed in Code 23 and are not a complete list of housing unit complaints.

4. CODE 30, PACKAGE ROOM

In 2007, the number of Package Room grievances filed was 2,116 compared to 2,252 filed in 2006, a decrease of 136 grievances or 6.0%. Package room grievances accounted for 4.5% of all grievances filed, compared to the 5.1% filed in 2006, showing a decrease of .6% in this code.

Many of the package room complaints result from a difference in security staff and inmate interpretation of Departmental Directive #4911, entitled "Packages & Articles Sent or Brought to Facilities". The governing directive describes items permitted to be received and the provisions thereof. The package room complaints have not substantially changed. The issues include hot pots, typewriters, watches, sneakers, food items and musical instruments. In November 2007, the package room Directive #4911, was revised. Facilities reported package room grievances challenging the new policies and procedures of the new directive. However, it is expected that the revision will provide more clarification and interpretation of the items allowed through the package room. Other issues still focus around an inmate's desire for items not allowed by directive because they are too valuable and present security concerns, and do not conform to size limitations. Other issues include permitted items that do not conform to other requirements of the package room directive, such as packaging for food products, colors of clothing/ undergarments/linens, the opening of package items to be searched and items that require approval of the Superintendent for receipt via special permit.

As in past years, the technological advancement in the design and variety of some allowable items results in their denial, since the item is essentially changed and does not conform to package room guidelines.

Package room grievances were also affected by the S-Block and Upstate C.F. inmates as a result of their movement from a maximum security keeplock situation to an S-Block or Upstate C.F. The inmate, although not on a loss of packages disposition, falls under the Special Housing Unit (SHU) policies regarding the limitation of packages as outlined in Directive #4933.

The resulting desire for products unacceptable for receipt via the package room impacts the number of grievances filed in this category.

5. CODE 24, SPECIAL HOUSING UNITS

In 2007, the number of SHU grievances filed was 1,864 compared to 2,045 filed in 2006. This is a decrease of 181 grievances or 8.9%. SHU accounted for 4.0% of all grievances filed, compared to 4.6% in 2006, a decrease of .6%.

Grievance submissions from the S-Blocks are down 226 from 2006. Upstate C.F. and Southport C.F. combined showed an increase of 712 grievance submissions from 2006. Some inmates transferred to these units were coming from maximum security facilities where they were in keeplock status in a general population cell. As a condition of confinement, the inmates must follow the SHU policies consistent with Directive #4933, which limits property in the cell, visits, packages, inmate contact, etc. Therefore, they grieve all aspects of the SHU policies. Other issues include smoking policy, cell cleanup, Progressive Inmate Movement System (PIMS) level issues, food issues and library materials.

The grievances in this category deal with SHU issues and do not reflect the actual number of grievances filed from SHU.

Additionally, Marcy S-Block was closed on 11/9/07 and converted to an Office of Mental Health (OMH) housing and treatment unit.

Chateaugay Correctional Facility

There were 20 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 5 last year. It is noted that last year's total was unusually low when compared to the 58 filed in 2005 and the 44 filed in 2004.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 12 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 4 last year. These grievances alleged harassment, threats, and abuse of authority.

Clinton (Main) Correctional Facility

There were 1,908 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 1,786 last year.

Code 22, Medical, had 357 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 298 last year. These grievances concerned quality of care, delay in care, outside consultations, medical procedures, medication issues, and special medical requests for footwear, and eye care.

Code 37, Mess Hall, had 84 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 31 last year. These grievances concerned inadequate portions, items missing from trays, improper removal from diet, and food being cold. It is noted that 50 of the 84 grievances regarded diet attendance, and that only 5 grievances regarded this issue in 2006.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 118 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 71 last year. These grievances alleged threats, physical abuse, racial slurs, verbal abuse, and staff incompetence.

Clinton (Annex) Correctional Facility

There were 380 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 300 last year.

Code 16, Religion, had 5 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 16 last year. These grievances concerned praying at work, denial of the Quaran, and the Native American advisor. The decrease in grievances filed is a result of two inmates, who filed a total of 10 grievances in 2006, transferring from the facility.

Code 22, Medical, had 60 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 45 last year. These grievances concerned requests for a single cell or cube, a medical transfer, nutritional supplements and accommodations for a knee replacement and hearing impairment.

Code 30, Package Room, had 31 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 13 last year. These grievances concerned missing items, denied items and being denied a Sergeant's review.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 87 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 86 last year. These grievances alleged physical abuse, racial slurs, threats, verbal abuse, and staff incompetency.

Franklin Correctional Facility

There were 663 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 592 last year.

Code 21, Dental, had 66 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 38 last year. These grievances concerned a lengthy waiting list to see the Dentist, dental care, teeth cleanings, dentures, oral surgery, and teeth extractions.

Upstate Correctional Facility

There were 4,476 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 3,626 last year.

Code 22, Medical, had 1,076 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 793 last year. These grievances concerned medical procedures, quality of care, delay in care, denied outside consultations, medication and special medical requests. This increase is due in part to the arrival of a new doctor and an unusually high turnover of nursing staff.

Code 24, Special Housing Units, had 461 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 395 last year. These grievances concerned denial of cell cleanup, headphones, matches, nail clippers, toilet paper, recreation, meals, announcements, time to shave, laundry, cell drain cleaner, scouring powder to scrub shower, cell change, problems with cell mate, night lights, and cell repairs.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 1,062 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 807 last year. These grievances alleged physical abuse, racial slurs, threats, verbal abuse, and staff incompetence. It is also noted that there was an increase of 389 misbehavior reports in 2007, which appears related to the increased grievance activity.

SULLIVAN HUB

Eastern Correctional Facility

There were 743 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 659 last year.

Code 20, ASAT, had 25 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 46 last year. These grievances concerned referrals, removals, and pay issues.

It is noted that the Nurse Administrator returned from military leave in 2006, which alleviated the staffing shortage caused by staff covering their own duties as well as those of the Nurse Administrator.

Code 23, Housing - Internal Block Affairs, had 5 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 24 last year. These grievances concerned supply distribution, laundry, TV programs and privilege suspensions.

Code 37, Mess Hall, had 4 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 15 last year. These grievances concerned hot water, breakfast selection and special diets. It is noted that the release of one inmate, who had filed 5 grievances about her food in 2006, may have decreased the numbers in this code.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 103 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 121 last year. These grievances alleged verbal harassment, sexual discrimination, profanity, use of physical force and threats.

Attica Correctional Facility

There were 1,590 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 1,460 last year.

Code 3, Correspondence, had 43 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 28 last year. These grievances concerned receipt of mail, tampering with mail, porters delivering mail, postage, receiving someone else's mail and certified return receipts.

Code 7, Recreation, had 14 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 21 last year. These grievances concerned radio and TV programming. The decrease is attributed to the ILC contracting with a new vendor for movies which provided more variety and the adjustment of radio station programming to satisfy the broader desires of the population.

Code 22, Medical, had 241 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 157 last year. These grievances concerned medications, sick call not being scheduled, incorrect treatments, requests for facility doctor appointments, questions regarding the doctor's determinations, and allegations of mistreatment by medical staff. The increase is attributed to staffing shortages throughout the year and sick call appointments being cut back to four days a week. A new Nurse Administrator is in place and contract nurses are being hired to fill in the shortages.

Code 31, Rules and Regulations, had 62 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 21 last year. These grievances concerned the Freedom of Information Law, mental health issues, double celling, Central Office Monitoring Case status, parole, time allowance committee, crutches in the yard and seat belts in department vehicles. The increase is attributed, in part, to placing more grievances in this code as opposed to code 50, which saw a decrease of 17 grievances this year.

Code 33, Personal Property Claims, had 27 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 21 last year. These grievances concerned lost or damaged items.

Code 38, Laundry, had 7 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 24 last year. These grievances concerned lost or damp laundry. It is noted that a fire in the facility laundry shut laundry operations down for several months in 2007. Laundry staff transported the laundry to a neighboring facility for processing without incurring an increase in grievances.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 193 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 202 last year. These grievances alleged physical assault, verbal abuse, sexual harassment, discrimination and threats.

Buffalo Correctional Facility

There were 3 grievances filed in 2007, the same as last year.

Collins Correctional Facility

There were 1,037 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 891 last year.

Code 1, Program Committee, had 15 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 4 last year. These grievances concerned assignment or removal from a program, and not honoring program refusals.

Code 22, Medical, had 202 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 234 last year. These grievances concerned quality of care, delay in care, medical procedures, medication, and outside consultation requests.

Code 24, Special Housing Units, had 105 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 69 last year. These grievances concerned arguments with staff, the PIMS system, meal delivery, supplies, showers, access to a supervisor, mail delivery and collection. There were 104 grievance from S-Block.

Code 29, Inmate Personal Property, had 66 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 28 last year. These grievances concerned stolen property, grandfathered property, processing and receipt of property and receipt of items from the inmate's property bin after PIMS level changes. There was no reason identified for the increase in this code.

Code 44, Inmate Grievance Program, had 28 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 10 last year. These grievances concerned complaints about the IGP Supervisor from Lakeview CF who is assigned to make weekly rounds of the Collins S-Block, the processing of grievances, violations of Directive #4040, biased interviews, the IGP Supervisor covering for staff, adherence to the Code of Ethics and the status of grievances at other facilities. The weekly rounds of the S-Block are made by the Lakeview IGP Supervisor.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 73 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 68 last year. These grievances alleged threats, physical abuse, discrimination, verbal abuse, and sexual harassment.

Gowanda Correctional Facility

There were 384 grievances filed in 2007, a decrease from the 505 last year.

Code 1, Program Committee, had 4 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 14 last year. These grievances concerned assignment to, or removal from, a program.

Code 3, Correspondence, had 5 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 18 last year. These grievances concerned the denial of photographs, mail not received and postage fees. The decrease is attributed to consistent staffing, as opposed to 2006 when the mailroom was short handed for periods throughout the year.

Code 22, Medical, had 35 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 22 last year. These grievances concerned medications, access to medical staff, ADA requests, medical holds, quality of care and requests for specialist consultations.

Code 23, Housing - Internal Block Affairs, had 18 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 34 last year. These grievances concerned window latches, supplies, water pressure, clothing temporary suspension of privileges, bunk moves and call outs.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 146 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 186 last year. There is no identifiable cause for the decrease in activity. These grievances alleged threats, verbal abuse, discriminatory remarks/treatment, retaliation, unprofessional searches and physical abuse.

Groveland Correctional Facility

There were 336 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 282 last year.

Code 22, Medical, had 69 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 63 last year. These grievances concerned medical treatment, medications, sick call, access to specialists, quality of care and timeliness of care.

Code 23, Housing - Internal Block Affairs, had 29 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 14 last year. These grievances concerned housing assignments, supplies, housing unit procedures, temporary suspension of privileges, supplies, showers, count procedures and call outs.

Code 30, Package Room, had 41 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 21 last year. These grievances concerned staff adherence to Directive #4911, denied items, missing items, supervisory review and disposal options.

Code 36, Inmate Accounts, had 10 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 2 last year. These grievances concerned monthly statements, processing disbursements and advances in accordance with departmental policy and procedure. There was no reason identified for the increase in this code.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 33 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 48 last year. These grievances alleged verbal harassment, physical assault, threats, discrimination and sexual harassment.

Lakeview Shock Incarceration Facility

There were 645 grievances filed in 2007, a decrease from the 650 last year.

Code 22, Medical, had 118 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 91 last year. These grievances concerned requests to see specialists, delays in care, medications, medical permits and sick call requests. The increase is attributed to S-Block Nurses enforcing sick call procedures such as being on the door, light on and ready to receive sick call. If the inmates are not in compliance the nurse moves on to the next inmate on the sick call list.

Code 23, Housing - Internal Block Affairs, had 86 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 126 last year. These grievances concerned mail distribution, property exchanges, new cell mates and cell clean up.

Code 28, Tier III Policy and Procedure, had 29 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 34 last year. These grievances concerned misbehavior report appeals, and disciplinary hearing policy and procedure.

Code 39, Facility Maintenance, had 14 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 30 last year. These grievances concerned repairs to the radio system, cell temperatures, recreation pen repairs and plumbing problems.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 37 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 59 last year. These grievances alleged verbal harassment, physical assault, threats, discrimination and sexual harassment.

Livingston Correctional Facility

Code 6, Guidance Unit / Counseling, had 8 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 0 last year. These grievances concerned program needs and the Earned Eligibility Program. There was no trend identified for the increase in this code.

Code 22, Medical, had 25 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 67 last year. These grievances concerned access to medical care, medications, requests for outside specialist consultations, denied sick call, delays in care and medical permits. The decrease is attributed to a new vendor for pharmaceutical supplies who is more efficient, and a dedicated video-conferencing system which provides more expeditious services.

Code 30, Package Room, had 3 grievances in 2007, a decrease from the 10 last year. These grievances concerned disallowed items.

Code 44, Inmate Grievance Program, had 8 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 4 last year. These grievances concerned call out procedures, IGRC staff actions and difficulties with the IGP Supervisor.

Code 49, Staff Conduct, had 46 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 44 last year. These grievances alleged physical abuse, verbal abuse, threats, discrimination and retaliation.

Orleans Correctional Facility

There were 622 grievances filed in 2007, an increase from the 535 last year.

Code 22, Medical, had 92 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 64 last year. These grievances concerned medication issues, quality of care, delays in care and specialist consultations.

Code 23, Housing - Internal Block Affairs, had 49 grievances in 2007, an increase from the 23 last year. These grievances concerned ladders for bunk beds, personal property storage, showers, bedding, mail distribution, PIMS Level changes, cell clean up and radio station selection. There is no identified trend for the increase.
